Welcome

David LISNARD

Chairman of the Regional Tourism Committee
CÔTE d'AZUR FRANCE

The CÔTE d'AZUR offers a wealth of outdoor sports opportunities by the sea, in the mountains and in our towns and cities.

In 2019, CÔTE d'AZUR FRANCE will be the proud host of around 60 different international events throughout the year, including world championships and legendary events for competitors and spectators alike, thus providing an opportunity to enjoy active holidays under the sun all year round.

Our region is aiming to create a series of Green Deal-certified events in a demonstration of the Département des Alpes-Maritimes and its chairman Charles-Ange Ginésy's commitment to the environment. This is particularly well illustrated by the World Freediving Championships scheduled for September in Villefranche-sur-Mer Bay and sponsored by Guillaume Néry.

2019 will also see extreme events that combine the magic of the sea and the peaks of the Mercantour, such as the Cairoman Ultra

Triathlon, the French DH mountain-biking cup in Valberg and the IRONMAN 70.3 World Championship.

Football fans will be delighted to hear that Nice will also be hosting a handful of the FIFA Women's World Cup matches, too.

When it comes to leisure sports, visitors can enjoy over 50 different activities on the Côte d'Azur, at sites with all the facilities you need to get the most out of the experience. The Cannes coast has succeeded in reasserting its status as an outdoor sports capital, our 15 ski resorts are expanding their summertime services and the Pass Côte d'Azur's 20 golf courses are revelling in the knock-on effects of the Ryder Cup.

Spectators are spoiled for choice here, too: The Monaco Grand Prix Formula One and the matches and events at the Allianz Riviera stadium, the Mediterranean and its spectacular regattas, including the stunning Cannes Royal Regattas, and the winding roads of the Côte d'Azur which serve as a backdrop for some of the world's most iconic running and cycling races.

Make the most of this unique natural setting, its untouched countryside and its state-of-the-art facilities to have fun, test your limits, share special moments and enjoy your stay! Sport reigns supreme on the CÔTE d'AZUR.

Welcome!

STÉPHANE DIAGANA

European and world 4 x 400 metre relay champion.

The 400 metres hurdles champion has lived in Vence for a few years now.

In 1997, Stéphane Diagana was France's first male athlete to be awarded a world champion title.

His favourite spot in the inland region:

"I like the inland region and mountains. There are less people than on the coast, where the crowds tend to swell.

My treat to myself is a bike ride, stopping off in a village for coffee before slowly making my way back home. I also enjoy walking on the Cheiron, just above Coursegoules."

YVES CORDIER

European triathlon champion.

His favourite spot: As an IRONMAN France Nice organiser, I'm proud to have created a cycling route in an exceptional setting, which around 2,500 athletes follow every summer during the race.

Athletes, both professional and amateur, come here for the quality of the cycling route and the idyllic backdrop.

"One thing is for sure: you never get bored on these beautiful roads, and I would urge all cycling fans to come and explore them for themselves. You won't be disappointed!"

PATRICK MOURATOGLOU

Chairman/Founder of the Mouratoglou Tennis Academy.
Coach to Serena Williams.
TV consultant.

"The Côte d'Azur is a unique place. The sea, mountains, history, exceptional climate and welcoming people, with the latter innately less stressed than city people further north. I love seeing all these people out and about cycling and jogging, all around Sophia on their lunch break or after work. There's an energy here that's addictive!"

GUILLAUME N RY

Guillaume N ry is a French freediving champion and deep-sea specialist. With multiple records under his belt, this double world champion recently made the news by accidentally achieving the deepest dive in history: 139 metres.

"Over and above the coast, the entire d partement is dear to my heart. As a teenager, I would go walking in the inland region with my parents. At 14, I first experienced freediving off the Promenade des Anglais! That feeling of drifting away from the shore and diving in, mere feet away from civilisation, was adventure enough to start with", he explains.

Individual World Apnea Championships

This year, freediving will be in the spotlight in Villefranche-sur-Mer from 2 to 15 September 2019.

Hosted by the Association Internationale pour le Développement de l'Apnée, the Individual World Apnea Championships 2019 will be drawing in around 140 competitors from 40 countries in Villefranche-sur-Mer's harbour.

This world championship will focus on sea diving in three categories: Constant weight apnea without fins (descent with breaststroke), constant weight apnea with fins (descent with fins) and free immersion apnea (descent via rope).

Viewers will be able to follow the free divers' exploits online in real time online, with Guillaume Néry back in the competition.

A new extreme triathlon: the Cairoman

Taking its name from the Cairoman of Mercantour legend, this unique race follows a unique structure: A 3 km swim, a 183 km bike ride with 6,780 m positive gradient and 32 km of trail running with 2,720 m positive gradient!

The inaugural edition is due to take place on 7 September 2019.

This extreme triathlon starts on the beach at Théoule-sur-Mer in one of the world's most beautiful bays, and ends in the Mercantour peaks in Saint-Martin-Vésubie.

An exceptional challenge in a dream setting!

The Women's World Cup

THE PRÉALPES D'AZUR

Nice's inland region is an intricate web of winding roads overlooking the famous 'clues' (gorges) for which the Pré Alpes d'Azur are known.

The mountainside roads here are a joy to experience, and meander down through gorges and valleys from the Grasse region to the Haute Vallée du Var.

Heading higher up and further north through the Vesubie valleys and the Cians gorges gives visitors the chance to soak up the authentic atmosphere of the French Alps' iconic roads.
